Novartis' Marketing Automation team sits within the MarTech Product Management organization which includes the following product lines: Content Enablement, Web, Social, Field CRM, Marketing Automation, UX Design & Research along with the Marketing Innovation Lab. The MarTech Product Management organization is accountable for the product lifecycle, leveraging data and technology to meet business goals and customer needs. With an agile approach and an enterprise mindset, the MarTech Product Management leadership team is leading transformational change.

About the Role: The Executive Director, Chief Product Owner, Marketing Automation is responsible for creating a unified product strategy, roadmap and key metrics across all product areas of the Marketing Automation product ecosystem within the Integrated Marketing & Customer Experience organization. This role will partner with US Marketing Strategy, Customer Engagement and Customer Experience, UX Design and UX Research Lead(s), Insights & Data Science (IDS), Data, Digital & IT (DD&IT) and other internal teams to design customer-centric, unified strategies that meet business and stakeholder requirements. The role is accountable for ensuring effectiveness and accessibility of the product and technology strategy, transforming how Novartis benefits from marketing technology products by unlocking user value, and creating effective and advanced marketing and customer-facing campaigns.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Establish and lead the development of a comprehensive Salesforce Ecosystem product strategy inclusive of a 3-year product roadmap for Marketing Automation, articulating a clear vision, mission and set of objectives, aligned to broader business objectives
- Serve as single point of contact, managing stakeholders and representing the product line at Product Council, Steering Committee, and Customer Advisory Board meetings
- Oversight of the Salesforce suite of products (Marketing Cloud Engagement, Marketing Cloud Personalization, Data Cloud, and Marketing Cloud Intelligence)
- Act as the Salesforce Ecosystem marketing evangelist, educator and consultant to executive leadership and key stakeholders
- Lead annual planning, budgeting, contract and vendor management and resourcing for the product line
- Manage risk and interdependencies for the product line and across product lines, including overlaps between product backlogs
- Drive the delivery of a cohesive and seamless technology eco-system, working in close partnership with the Data, Digital & IT organization

- Mature the Marketing Automation product team mindset and agile ways of working
- Establish OKRs and continuously evaluate progress against objectives for ongoing optimization, for improvements in effectiveness, efficiency, compliance and user experience
- Support solution delivery responsibilities (e.g., opportunity assessments and prioritization, budgeting & planning, status reporting, management of issues, risks, decisions and actions across technology solutions, communications, and resource management)

This position can be based remotely anywhere in the U.S. (there may be some restrictions based on legal entity). Please note that this role would not provide relocation as a result. The expectation of working hours and travel (domestic and/or international) will be defined by the hiring manager. This position will require 25% travel.

What You'll Bring to the Role:

Education: Bachelor's degree in related field is required; Master of Science or MBA preferred

Essential Requirements:

Experience:

- Minimum of 7 years of related technical experience in Product Management, or similar, with multi-functional experience in Pharmaceutical or Healthcare industries preferred
- Experience building and enabling the Salesforce Ecosystem for large enterprises.
- Proven history of developing and implementing successful Salesforce product strategies
- Minimum of 5 years of experience in operating effective marketing technology configurations and integrations that drive performance and enable effective customer engagement and marketing activities
- Relevant experience in transforming the businesses through next generation engagement and related product management operations
- Understanding of regulatory, compliance, privacy and legal guardrails and policies
- Effective cross-functional collaboration with various stakeholders and teams including Product, Technology Transformation, Communications, Privacy, Legal, Regulatory, Compliance and Global
- Detail-oriented with the ability to manage multiple tasks, priorities and deadlines
